

DESTINATIONS: OUT OF AFRICA

BY EMILY BAXTER-PRIEST

As a continent, Africa has to be one of the most diverse and beautiful. From Mozambique to Namibia, from the Indian Ocean to the great plains, explore it <sup>[SEP]</sup>in all its natural glory

2. MOZAMBIQUE: Anantara Medjumbe Island Resort

Envelop yourself in a different kind of ‘out of Africa’ moment in Mozambique, swapping wide-open plains for shipwrecked escapism, all wrapped in Anantara’s signature pared-back luxury. Medjumbe Island, off the coast of Mozambique, is just one kilometre long and 300 metres wide, fringed by verdant vegetation and the softest white powdery sands. There are only 12 beach pool villas, meaning the entire island only sleeps 24 guests, perfect for an all-island buy-out. Off the beach and into the azure Indian Ocean, and some of the world’s most undiscovered diving and snorkelling sites await in this protected Quirimbas Archipelago, with its whales, dolphins and sea turtles. The Anantara Spa comes with all of its usual five-star trimmings, while Mozambican flavours come to the fore at Spice Spoons. A truly interesting twist on an African adventure.

www.anantara.com