Anantara Lawana Culinary Journeys

Home to the finest gourmet destinations in Koh Samui, Anantara Lawana Koh Samui Resort offers unforgettable culinary experiences for every occasion. Dine beachfront, in the trees or in a private setting surrounded by unmatched beauty under the helm of Executive Chef, Kevin Fawkes.

The decorated Englishman who has two Iron Chef Thailand wins to his name is rightfully considered one of the most experienced Executive Chefs in the industry. An Honorary Director for the Thailand Culinary Academy and Member of the British Culinary Federation, he is well respected for his involvement in mentoring the next generation of young chefs.

Through our extensive supplier network, we work with local farms and fishermen who share our sustainable values to source excellent Thai cheeses, cold cuts and seafood from across the region, while the pastry team makes all bread and pastry in house to further reduce carbon emissions.

The Singing Bird Lounge

Elevated to sit in line with a lush crown of a 120-year-old tree, The Singing Bird Lounge is a lively alfresco dining venue to enjoy a pre-dinner aperitif with a bird's-eye view. The cocktails, all named after local birds, offer insights into a fascinating Thai tradition drawing thousands of spectators from across the region — bird singing contests. As guests settle down with a refreshing concoction to toast the sunset, Samui's avian population comes out in force to dazzle with the most melodic of performances. To further root his artful creations in local nature, our resident mixologist makes his own bitters using plants from our garden as well as garnishing his cocktails with resort-grown fruits and herbs.
