BANGKOK

A vibrant photograph of a Carnival event at Guilty Bangkok. In the foreground, a woman in a sparkling pink sequined outfit and red gloves dances, while a man in a green sequined vest and white pants plays a large blue and white drum. The background is filled with other guests, including a woman in a white dress, and the scene is lit with green and yellow lights. A large, stylized red and white 'Carnival' text is overlaid on the bottom half of the image.
