

ANANTARA

THE MARKER DUBLIN
HOTEL

Unforgettable
urban luxury

Welcome to Anantara The Marker Dublin Hotel

One of Dublin's most visually architectural landmarks, Anantara The Marker Dublin Hotel offers a distinct blend of luxurious hospitality and urban style. A warm welcome to an unforgettable urban retreat awaits for guests who crave the unconventional, yet expect the exceptional standards of service that are the signature of a member of The Leading Hotels of the World™.

Located in the heart of the Docklands, Dublin's most prolific cultural hub, Anantara The Marker is the perfect base for city-centre stays, meetings, business conferences, stylish events, weddings and special occasions.

Location

Anantara The Marker Dublin Hotel offers contemporary urban luxury overlooking the Grand Canal Square. Perfectly located in the modernised Docklands, the hotel captures the unique mix of vibrant charm and rich culture that exemplifies the spirit of modern Dublin.

Originally a significant Viking settlement and port, Dublin's character has been shaped by architecture spanning from medieval to modern times. Built by the greatest engineers of the age, the Grand Canal Docks were the final point of the Grand Canal (An Chanáil Mhór), connecting Dublin, in the east of Ireland, with the River Shannon in the west, via a series of villages and towns.

In recent years, the area has developed to become one of the trendiest places to live, work and play in Dublin. It is home to the headquarters of numerous global players in the banking, legal and tech sector. With companies such as TikTok, Google and AirBnB choosing Grand Canal as their base, the futuristic area has become affectionately known as 'Silicon Docks'.

A historic milestone and iconic landmark

The hotel name 'The Marker' honours one of the greatest inland trade routes, the Grand Canal.

The direct link with the exotic trading hubs of Europe, the Grand Canal's 82 miles were lined with cast iron 'markers'. These markers were like milestones, showing travellers how far they had to go until journey's end. The final marker was right where the hotel is located now, in Grand Canal Square. Inspired by the innate Irish love of adventure, travel and trade, the hotel's name embodies this rich history, giving it a new sense of place in a contemporary context.

The building's architecture draws on the elemental nature of the Irish landscape and combines it with a sleek urban aesthetic, creating an experience that is distinctly authentic and truly inimitable. Inspiration comes from the geometric shapes that exist naturally on the Irish island, from the rugged Burren Landscape to the unique hexagonal stones of the Giant's Causeway.

This elemental style seamlessly extends from the stunning ground floor bar and restaurant, through to the unique geometric layouts of our 187 bedrooms, to the breathtaking Rooftop Bar & Terrace, reaching across the cityscape to the wild natural beauty of the mountains and the Irish Sea.

Accommodation

Most rooms and suites have striking views over Grand Canal Square and the Docklands, and beyond to the Dublin and Wicklow mountains and the Irish sea. Bathed in natural light, spacious and designed with supreme comfort and style, all guest rooms set a new standard in city living.

Special Holidays

St Patrick's Day is a global celebration of Irish culture yearly on 17 March.

It particularly remembers St Patrick, one of Ireland's patron saints, who ministered Christianity in Ireland during the fifth century.

Halloween's origins are deeply rooted in Ireland, with traditions and customs that date back millennia to ancient Celtic practices. Originally known as the festival of Samhain, it was the day that marked the end of the harvest season and the dawn of winter.
