Wellness traditional thai healing treatments

Thai wellness treatments are drawn upon an ancient healing system that works with your body's 'sen' or energy meridian lines, with a combination of acupressure from Chinese Medicine, stretching and posture correction from yogic influences.

The aim of the Thai treatment is to encourage the correct flow of energy around your body, bringing harmony and balance to your physical and mental state. This can help relieve stress and anxiety, raise energy levels, and promote an overall feeling of relaxation.

Hydracool facial

The ultimate HydraCool machine facial is a patented skin treatment available in four steps: cleansing, exfoliating, extraction, and hydrating the skin with intense moisturising serums that are infused into the skin.

The HydraCool Treatment assists in reducing skin imperfections and anaesthetic brown spots. This potent treatment harmonises your complexion and instantly imparts a deep radiant glow to your skin. It deeply infuses the Lightening Vegetal Complex with the HydraCool Mesophoresis, which promotes skin brightening and offers protection from sun rays and external damage.

The HydraCool Ultrasound application lifts the skin, whilst highly concentrated vitamins and antioxidants provide optimal and immediately visible results in regeneration and anti-ageing.

Ayurvedic treatment

Ayurveda is an ancient holistic healing philosophy, originating from India over 5,000 years ago. It guides and inspires us in the pursuit of a healthier and more balanced lifestyle. Recognising that each individual is unique, Ayurveda emphasizes nutrition, lifestyle, massage, yoga, and herbal remedies tailored to one's distinct constitution.

Ayurvedic treatments offer both rejuvenating and relaxing experiences, utilising specially chosen therapeutic Ayurvedic oils that correspond to one's individual "doshas". The goal is to naturally balance energies, alleviate muscle fatigue and tension, improve circulation, calm the mind, and uplift the spirit.

'Abhyanga' translates as "to anoint". Specific warm herbal oils are used for the head and body, in accordance with one's unique constitution. This is a soothing massage with long strokes, stimulating specific Ayurvedic sites to achieve overall health and balance.

In Shirodhara, the terms "Shiro" (head) and "Dhara" (flow) come together. The therapy involves applying a continuous stream of warm oil to the forehead. It harmonises and calms the mind, body, and spirit, boosting circulation to the brain, enhancing memory, nourishing the hair and scalp, and relieving stress and tension.

SHIRODHARA

This traditional massage utilises herbs to address joint pain, muscle cramps, stress, and arthritis. The poultices, warmed in therapeutic oils, are employed to massage the entire body. This technique fosters better circulation in the affected areas, encouraging increased perspiration, which aids the skin in expelling toxins.

Body massages

Massage therapy involves the tactile manipulation of soft body tissues (muscles, connective tissues, tendons, and ligaments) to bolster health and overall well-being.

Blending our distinctive oils with bespoke movements, this massage bolsters circulation and fosters profound relaxation. It also rejuvenates the flow of energy, or 'prana', along meridian lines.

Employing the palms and elbows to activate pressure points, this massage elevates blood circulation, dispels muscle tension, and heightens energy. Rooted in ancient wisdom, it promises time-tested benefits.

This is an intricate fusion of gentle stretches, acupressure, reflexology, and aromatherapy. It invigorates blood and oxygen flow, as well as the circulation of 'qi' (energy), cultivating a sense of deep relaxation and well-being.

Five distinct massage strokes target each body part, igniting the nervous system, improving circulation and flexibility, and nurturing both physical and emotional health.

Passed down through generations, this 'passive yoga' technique by our adept therapists will dispel tension and stress, paving the way for enhanced flexibility and vigour. This dry massage, performed without oil, is delivered in loose clothing.
