SINGING BOWL MEDITATION

Singing bowls, or sound baths, in which one is immersed in the sound of bowls, provides relaxation and have been shown to reduce anxiety, stress, and depression. The sounds of a singing bowl offer respite from the everyday churning of the mind, and so does meditation and yoga. Sound is at the very core of our being and can be an effective instrument in healing and calming the mind. Explore the benefits of using singing bowls in our meditation practice.
