Royal Hot Spots: Wherever the adventure is

You don't have to be as rich as a royal to travel like one. Famous for going against the grain, Prince Harry enjoys summering in Southern Africa, where he's rambled through locales as diverse as Botswana, South Africa, Namibia and Tanzania. One of his favorite lodging options is Anantara Bazaruto Island Resort off the Mozambique shore, where you can grab a royal-sized, 3,330-square-foot villa with a private plunge pool for $1,800 nightly.

If that's too rich for your blood, Harry also embarked on a three-month African conservation tour. Take a style cue from this rebellious royal and ramble through a Cape Town hostel for just over $20 a night, according to Hostelworld.
